

Two Instructors Added to Harbor Tooling Course

Two long-time tool and die engineers have been added to the evening staff of Los Angeles Harbor College to teach courses in tool and die manufacturing and design during the Spring Semester.

Joseph Seman has a background of 23 years' experience in automotive shipyard, job shop, and aircraft and missile industries in many supervisory positions. A member of the American Society of Tool and Manufacturing Engineers, he has taught courses in cost estimating and contract pricing for UCLA University Extension Division since 1961.

Paul Mansfield has had 20 years experience in the fields of tooling and metal fabrication, and is at present in charge of tool design for Nortronics, Hawthorne plant. He is also chairman of Chapter 129 of the American Society of Tool and Manufacturing Engineers.

The two instructors will be teaching two sections of Tool and Die Manufacturing from 6:30 to 9:30 p.m. Mondays
