"Because there are so many tribes, there are a great number of proverbs," says manger Mrs. Virginia Smith Haack. "Consequently, no two menus carry the same card on a given night."

Not only are youngsters finding a new hobby at the Smith Bros. Indian Village Restaurant, but Mrs. Haack and the fleet-footed maiden waitresses note that some families are coming in more frequently — not only for dinner, but to add more cards to their growing proverb collection.

GOOD DUO
Henry Mucha and Eddie Rapoza are featured in the Lounge in the Peking Restaurant on West Manchester in Inglewood.

The piano and base duo offer romantic island melodies as well as standards each Friday and Saturday night from 9 until closing. Both musicians are from Hawaii, and have made Los Angeles home in recent years.

POTENT STUFF
"Firewater with a Zing!" That's the description of the cocktail suggestions listed on the new luncheon menu at Smith Bros. Indian Village Restaurant in Torrance.

Two new drinks, the Co-chise Cooler and the Turquoise Margarita, are being introduced for the first time in the "Firewater Room," where luncheons are also served by fleet-footed maidens. Already these cocktails are sharing popularity with three other tribal-christened favorites, Custer's Last Stand, Geronimo and Golden Feather.

A restaurant with food easy to prase, Indian Village has also achieved a well-deserved reputation for its generously poured bar spirits. An impressive array of liquors, aperitifs and a wide selection of brandies, cordials and liqueurs are amply provided by bar-manager John McKown and his fellow "Medicine Men."

SIGN OF GOOD EATING . . . FRANK STELLINO'S popular delicatessen-restaurant is located at 2734 Pacific Coast Hwy., Torrance. Italian cuisine, chicken, steaks, veal, plus a varied selection of wines and beers highlight the menu. For reservations phone 325-1083.

KNOWN THE COUNTRY OVER . . .
NOW IN WALTERIA, TORRANCE

Kentucky Fried Chicken is NOT pre-cooked, NOT parboiled nor french fried for convenience or for speed in serving. Fresh (not frozen) locally grown plump broilers, special portion-cut, are dipped in milk and egg, rolled in flour containing 11 different proportionately blended spices and herbs, then cooked with special equipment designed to seal in all the natural juices and goodness of the chicken. Only minutes after cooking process is started, Kentucky Fried Chicken is READY TO EAT . . . and 'it's finger-lickin' good.'
