

TORRANCE'S NEWEST "LEGAL" RESTAURANT OPENS ITS DOORS . . . George Kavalis and Lee Manolakas' elegant Gavel Restaurant located at 3555 Torrance Blvd. today opened its doors to the public. The unique restaurant is considered an architectural and an interior decoration masterpiece. Its menu features the finest in steaks, seafoods, and desserts. The atmosphere is incomparable, the service excellent. On hand for the grand opening were: LEE

MANOLAKAS, KATHY MANOLAKAS, LIBERTY KAVALIS, GEORGE KAVALIS, attorneys ROBERT MEFHAM, HAROLD THOMASIAN, CYRIL A. WALTON, WILLIAM C. DOHENY, and OWEN A. SILVERMAN. Attorney's sons ROBERT JAMES MEFHAM AND PAUL H. THOMASIAN along with IRS Design Consultant MARGO GRAHAM joined the gala festivities. Make this one a must on your dine out list. Phone 370-6321.

WE'VE GOT THE BEST CHICKEN IN TOWN . . . Evelyn Guzman and chef Norman Woodrome are mighty proud of the superb chicken dinners that can be had for only $1.25 at Mr. and Mrs. Clovis Haynie's popular Queen's Kitchen restaurant located at 1332 Sartori. You get a complete half chicken, country gravy, whipped potatoes, fresh vegetables, hot biscuits, and honey along with something you can't buy—fast and friendly service. There is another Queen's Kitchen located at 3629 W. Imperial, Inglewood. Both are open 24 hours.

STUDENT-MOTHER WINS SHAKY'S LONDON PUB TOUR

"Dirty Dick's, here we come!" was the cry of a student-mother who has never been farther East than Ohio as she was proclaimed the winner of Shakey's Pizza Parlors London pub tour. Donna Lee Smith, who is studying nights to get a law degree at Los Angeles City College while working as a typesetter days, plans to leave for England with her husband, Richard, the second week in August. The charming Mrs. Smith lives in a modest flat at 1942 Clinton St., Los Angeles, with her four delightful children. "I've a go at it, mates," was the theme of the reaction of Linda, 16, who is pretty enough to be a model and is studying toward that goal; Ronald, 14, and Craig, 12, both music buffs; and Eric, 4½, who is not sure what is going on but loves every minute of the excitement.

Donna Lee's name was drawn from among the 108,304 entries submitted during the 13 weeks of the contest sponsored by the 30 Shakey's Pizza Parlors in the Los Angeles area. The prize is a flight to London for two; a chauffeur-driven Rolls Royce tour of London's famous pubs, after which Shakey's Pizza Parlors are fashioned; three nights in one of London's plush hotels and $200 spending money. "This is the chance of a lifetime for someone like me who has never traveled," said Mrs. Smith. "In fact, Richard and I have not had a vacation in four years. The thought of visiting places called Dirty Dick's, The Cheshire Cheese, The Dog and Duck, plus Buckingham Palace, Parliament and other such famous sites, really intrigues us."

Parliament is a primary goal for Mrs. Smith, who is studying toward becoming a lawyer in order to run for public office. "My true ambition is to be a Congresswoman in Washington, D.C. The tragic death of President Kennedy spurred me to take an active part in the government of my country." Mr. Smith also is a typesetter at Rapid Blueprint Co., and he, too, is attending LACC with an eye on a future as an attorney. Mrs. Smith, who made the honor roll at LACC last semester, is employed by Overland Printers in Culver City. The family, which has enjoyed dining at many of the 30 Shakey's Pizza Parlors during the past several years, submitted its entries at the Burbank parlor operated by Art Williams. In honor of the win, Williams hosted the family at a celebration dinner and Mrs. Smith was toasted, appropriately enough, with a glass of stout.

WONDERFUL DAY
A dozen teenagers from the Braille Institute of Southern California enjoyed the Redondo Beach Harbor on an excursion Friday (July 16) as guests of two of the harbor lease operators. The blind youngsters spent most of the day at Portofino Inn, swimming in the pool and barbe-
