Dear Mike: How are they going to get all that nudity into "Hawaii"? I mean the stuff that's in the book—and with sweet Goody Two-Shoes Julie Andrews as the star! —Barbara Lohde, Schnectady, N. Y.

Dear Barbara: I'll let producer Lewis Rachmil explain it: "The nudity before the arrival of the missionaries will be implied rather than shown. There will be long shots, but from the side and back, but nothing to offend. And if any of these shots are too revealing, we'll take them out."

Dear Mr. C: I am making a Novena for Frank Sinatra. Do you suppose he would be interested in that? —Mrs. James A. Riley, Storrs, Conn.

Dear Mrs. Riley: We can all use prayers. Personally, I'm praying for world peace.

Sir: Has the popularity of The Beatles dropped since Ringo got married? —Judy Acinelli, Paradise, Calif.

Dear Judy: Not so's you would notice. The reviews on "Help!" aren't nearly as glowing as they were for "A Hard Day's Night" but Capitol Records just raked up the company's all-time high by filling 142,000 orders of the soundtrack album in one day.

Dear Keyhole Peeper: What's the latest dirt on Dickie and Liz? After they co-starred in that slimy "Sandpiper," they must be wallowing in the filth of "Who's Afraid of Virginia Woolf?" —Mary Heckenkamp, Ormond Beach, Fla.

Dear Mary: I wouldn't say they're wallowing but I hear they've had some words over their co-star Sandy Dennis. Burton, it seems, admires Sandy as an actress and has said it too many times to suit his spouse. Oh well, those are this week's fireworks and there's always tomorrow.

Dear Sir: What's happened to Electronvision, the company that produced the first "Harlow" with Carol Lynley? Nothing good, I hope—what a horrible picture! —Miss J. E. Dwyer, Owings Mills, Md.

Dear Mrs. J. E. They're pitching for Peter Sellers to star in the movie version of "Stop the World, I Want to Get Off." Simultaneously, just this week, the following sign went up outside the company's offices on the Sunset Strip — "This Property Seized for Non-payment of Internal Revenue Taxes."

Dear Mike: I just got back from a vacation in your wonderful town, where I had the privilege of visiting Dean Martin's set, "The Silencers," at Columbia Studio. They were doing a scene involving a fabulous striptease dancer. I don't know her name but I can tell you she's a real comer so keep your eye on her.

—Bruce Rinehart, Bloomington, Minn.

Dear Bruce: Send her a get-well card at Valley Doctor's Hospital in the San Fernando Valley. Her name is Anna Lavelle. She is recuperating from a pleurisy attack suffered on the ultra-air-conditioned soundstage during the strenuous strip sequence you saw.

Dear Mike: I saw Anna Maria Alberghetti here in "West Side Story." Fabulous, frumious, fantastic. Why doesn't this gorgeous creature make more movies? —Robert L. Murney, Kansas City, Mo.

Dear Robert: Why should she when she can make $58,000 playing the summer stock circuit in "Story"—in one city? Yes, that was her take from just that one date.

Dear Mr. Mike You're right!

the world isn't ready for it. I just can't see Elvis Presley and The Beatles in the same picture. Poor Elvis, how could he stand it? I don't particularly mind Johnny Rivers but The Beatles—ugh! If it's true, can we please have more details? —Mary Elizabeth Carino, Livingston, N. J.

Dear Mary Elizabeth: That's all the data I have to date but I'll try to keep you posted.

A moderate amount of fat in the diet is good and even necessary for health. But your Heart Association says too much fat is to be avoided because it can lead to overweight. Many heart doctors consider obesity the most widespread health hazard in this land of plenty.
