A daughter, Elizabeth Wilson, and a grandson, both of Torrance, survive Mrs. Harvey.

GI Insurance Renewal Due Before May 2

Less than a month remains for World War II and Korean War veterans with service-connected disabilities to renew lapsed GI insurance policies, according to Mort Webster, manager of VA's Southern California Regional Office.

The law which allows these veterans to replace all or part of the GI insurance which had lapsed or which they failed to purchase during active wartime duty will expire at midnight, May 2, 1966.

The application, together with payment for the first month's premium must be received by the VA by May 2, or must bear a postmark before midnight May 2, to be acceptable.

EVEN THOUGH the veteran's service-connected disability has been rated at zero per cent and carries no monthly compensation payment, he may still be eligible for one of the new GI insurance policies, Webster said.

There are several choices of insurance plans: ordinary life, 20-payment life, 20-year endowment, and modified life.

Eligible veterans may apply for full $10,000 coverage or for any part of that figure to bring their total GI insurance up to $10,000, or they may take out as little as $1,000 if they wish.

Premium rates and full information may be obtained at any VA Regional Office.
