Curriculum Announced

"Accepting the changes demanded by our technological society while conserving the heritage of the past" is the theme set forth by the Rev. Lawrence J. Clark, principal of the Calvary Baptist elementary school, in planning the '66-'67 curriculum.

In comparing new educational concepts with the traditional, Clark said modern math will continue to be featured, but an even greater stress will be placed on traditional arithmetic skills. Phonics is another area of combining a "changing yet traditional" curriculum. The children will begin reading in kindergarten and the new "Sloop Method" will be the basis for phonics instruction.

In addition to the daily Bible study in the classrooms, emphasis will be increased on expressing the adoration and love of God through creative writing and music.

Faculty members will include Miss Doralee Howell, Mrs. Lucille A. Ufford, Paul C. Reese, John A. Spencer, Mrs. Geneva C. Earley, Mrs. Lin Jacobson, Mrs. Carol Waters, Mrs. Wilma Beckwith, Mrs. Alice Poole, and Mrs. Edna Potter. Staff members include Arthur L. Carr and Mrs. Emma Harkink.
