By Mike Connolly

Dear Sir: Please introduce us pen pals to boys over 18 years. We are 18-year-old girls. We want to write about your movies. — K.M. and A.O. Cho Anpachi—Gun-Gifu-Pref, Japan.

Dear K.M. and A.O.: Sorry, I do not write a column for pen pals. I write a Hollywood column. I would suggest you write to one of the Hollywood magazines — such as Modern Screen, Photoplay, or the magazines in your own country—for this information. With all good wishes for success in your venture.

Dear Mr. Connolly: I was wondering if you could give me some information about a movie titled, "The List of Adrian Messenger." I believe it came out four years ago. Now at school they are showing a movie, "The Great Imposter," starring Tony Curtis. Is there any tie-in? Could you tell me if it was a book before they made it into a movie? — C. L., Redwood City, Calif.

Dear C. L.: There is no connection between the two films. "Adrian Messenger" is taken from a book and "Imposter" is a story based on a real-life imposter.

Dear Sir: I am a great fan of Jean-Paul Vignon and would like to know his birthday and how old he is? Has he made any records and on what label does he record? One more question and I'll let you alone. Where can I write to him? Thanks a lot, Mike.—G. K., Westfield, N.J.

Dear G. K.: Write to the record company for which Jean-Paul records for all the information you requested in your letter. You can get the address of the company from the sleeve of Vignon's longplay albums.

Dear Mike: My daughter was born in 1946 and named for the picture, "Janie." Could you please tell me the name of the lovely girl who played the title role and how she might be contacted. Many thanks. — Mrs. D.D.S., Harlingen, Tex.

Dear Mrs. D.D.S.: Joyce Reynolds is the actress who

Chairman Named for Campaign

Appointment of Councilman Ken Nakaoka as Gardena community chairman has been announced by David K. Hayward, area chairman of the Committee to Re-Elect Cranston Controller.

Hayward said he was pleased to have Nakaoka join in the campaign to return Alan Cranston, only Democratic controller elected in this century, to Sacramento.

"I know and admire Cranston and his record of achievements makes it imperative that we keep him in Sacramento," Nakaoka said.

names of the female stars that played in the last version of "The Women" starring June Allyson. — D.E.S., Summit, N.J.

Dear D.E.S.: This movie was produced by Joe Pasternak at MGM Studios, 10202 W. Washington Blvd., Culver City. I remember Ann Sheridan, Joan Blondell, and Joan Collins for starters but I could be wrong. Please write to Mr. Pasternak for the complete cast.

Dear Sir: Will you kindly furnish me the home address of Andy Williams. I understand one of Mr. Williams brothers lives here in San Francisco. — A.M.O., San Francisco.

Dear A.M.O.: Sorry, I can't give out home addresses. But you can write to Andy in care of: NBC-TV, Burbank. If that fails, please check with the book Celebrity Register in your local library for the address of any celebrity.

Dear Mr. Connolly: I am a Chinese girl and have been in this country only two months from Formosa where we can buy photographs of all actors and actresses of any country. I did not bring any with me. Where can I write for them. And did Julie Harris ever appear in other movies besides "The War Lord" and "Harper"? — T. C., San Francisco.

Dear T. C.: If you will buy some of the major movie magazines, you will find the addresses of every motion picture company. They are the best source of photos. Julie's first movie was "East of Eden" with the late James Dean at Warner Bros. Julie also appeared in "The Haunting" for Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer Studios in Culver City. Best of luck in your searchings. That's half the fun.
