Tartar Teen Talk

By Pam Anderson

Voting is the word around their Saturday nights. The campus this week. Freshmen are involved with their first class election and the seniors are going to pick the homecoming finalists.

The class of '70 attended the election speeches yesterday and polling was held today. Run-offs will be held tomorrow. There are a total of 23 students running for office.

Tomorrow, seniors will be picking 15 homecoming finalists in their government classes. The top 15 will be announced at the football rally Friday.

THE TORRANCE Recreation Department is involved in a program designed to give high school juniors and seniors from all Torrance high schools something to do with

What's the name of this organization, is kicking off their new program with a dance on November 4 at the Recreation Hall.

—Sounds like a great club so let's see all the THS gang there!

What are your college plans? This question was put to the Senior class yesterday when they attended an assembly full of senior news and college information. Counselors informed the seniors of scholarship opportunities and dates when college representatives will be on campus. Bulletins and catalogs are available in the counseling office.

WHO SAYS teenagers should be seen and not heard? Not the Torrance City Council. As a result of the newly formed city youth council, high school students are invited to attend open forum discussions on major topics in the city. The next meeting will be held Wednesday, Oct. 18, at the Torrance City Hall at 7 p.m. All students are invited to attend and voice their opinions.

This Friday the cross country team travels to Leuzinger for a meet at 3 p.m. Aviation invades the Tartar Stadium Friday night for a game at 8 p.m. This should be an exciting game for Warfle's Wildcats, so see you there. Later...
