Lifeguard Captain Is Cited for Youth Work

His improvement of the general surfing environment has earned Dwight V. Crum, captain of Los Angeles County Lifeguards, the March Citizen-of-the-Month award presented by Great Lakes Properties.

A Redondo Beach resident, Crum was honored for his remarkable effort in making surfing a better and safer sport for local youth.

He not only formulated and endorsed certain equitable controls which designate safe surfing areas and hours, but gave uncounted hours of personal and professional guidance to individuals and groups.

His achievements, extending far beyond official duty, have earned him the respect of surfers, their parents, and beach enthusiasts interested in maintaining pleasant and safe beach areas.

The monthly award, honoring outstanding citizens of the area, was presented to Captain Crum by Jerry Hay, marketing manager for Great Lakes Properties.

Study of Overpass Ordered

New studies into the feasibility of constructing a pedestrian overpass on Normandie Avenue near a railway crossing have been started by Supervisor Burton W. Chace's office, it was reported here today.

Members of the Palo del Amo Woods Homeowners Association have been seeking the overpass for use of children who will attend the new President Avenue Elementary School. The school will open in September.

Mrs. Carol Burns, a member of the homeowners' special projects committee, said the city of Los Angeles rejected a request for the overpass. She said Supervisor Chace ordered the new study after meeting with the special projects committee.
