

COUNTY CODE . . . Supervisor Kenneth Hahn (left) and County Engineer John Lambie skim through the first edition of the county's revised Uniform Building Laws, covering the building, electrical, plumbing, and mechanical codes. The book incorporated within one volume the four basic documents which regulate construction in unincorporated Los Angeles County. Hahn said the stronger codes also should "provide new determination and spirit for enforcing building rehabilitation laws and slum prevention."

School Benefits Offered Students

Social Security benefits being paid to young people 18 to 22 who are still in school amount to more than the scholarships at all colleges and universities in the United States, according to Miles Davis, Social Security district manager.

In the 1968-69 school year, the Social Security program will pay about $479 million to approximately 466,000 students entitled to payments on the earnings record of a disabled, retired, or deceased parent. This will be an average of more than $1,000 to each eligible student.

The school year that begins next fall will mark the fourth year of payments under a 1965 change in the law providing for the continued payment of Social Security child's benefits past the age of 18. Until that change, a young beneficiary's payments stopped when he became 18 unless he was totally disabled.

There is nothing in the law that prevents the student from receiving his Social Security benefits while he is still receiving assistance from a scholarship fund. Benefits may be paid during vacation periods.

If a student works during the summer months or part time during the school year, and earns $1,680 or less for the year, he can still collect all of his Social Security benefits. If his earnings go above $1,680, he gives up some or all his benefits, depending upon the amount of his total earnings and how steadily he works.

A 1967 change in the dependency requirements for the children of women workers made about 175,000 young persons eligible for payments. A large number of them are in the 18 to 22 group and are attending school. They must apply for benefits before their payments can start.

Young people in the 18 to 22 age group whose mothers died after working under Social Security, or whose mothers are retired or disabled, should get in touch with the nearest Social Security office if they are not already receiving Social Security student's benefits.

JOINS ASSOCIATION As a courtesy to persons who cannot call or visit during regular office hours, the Torrance Social Security Office at 1408 Crenshaw Blvd. is open each Wednesday night from 4:30 to 7:30 p.m.

Nursing Classes Planned

Train to become a licensed vocational nurse without charge during your spare time. This is the opportunity now offered to experienced hospital orderlies and nurses attend through the California State Employment Service, according to Arthur Morgan, area manpower administrator.

The training will be given at several locations in Los Angeles County and starting dates will be set when sufficient applications have been received from qualified trainees.

Morgan said the program was set up to enable lower-paid hospital employees to upgrade their status and income while continuing their present employment. The LVN classes are scheduled so that workers on all shifts can attend. Training will be given three hours per day, four days per week, for 40 weeks. Qualified graduates will then take a written examination given by the State Board of Vocational Nurse Examiners.

Upon completion of training, applicants must have three years of paid work experience during the last four years in a general hospital or other health care facility. This must include specified periods of experience in various types of nursing.

Morgan emphasized that experience in a convalescent hospital or sanitarium is not qualifying. He said that detailed information and applications are available in all Los Angeles County offices of the California State Employment Service.

Dinner To Honor Trustee

A pot luck dinner honoring Dr. Julian Nava of the Los Angeles Board of Education has been scheduled Saturday, July 13, beginning at 6 p.m. The dinner, sponsored by the Harbor Area-Palos Verdes Citizens' Council for Better Education, will be held in the Wilmington VFW Hall, 1128 W. Anaheim St., Wilmington.

Helen Robello and Carla Last are serving as ticket chairmen.

Dr. Nava will give a progress report and answer questions from the floor.

Nine million hours were donated last year by 113,000 veterans hospital volunteers.
