

Kanine Korner

By Francis X. Lohmann

Swimming is good exercise and great fun for people and for dogs as well.

Although dogs are attributed with "natural" swimming instincts, use common sense when introducing Bowser to water and utilize every means of protecting him against water hazards.

For many dogs, these hazards are swimming pools or other bodies of water with steep, straight sides. A dog should never be left unattended near a pool in the neighborhood. He may decide to jump in to cool off or lean over for a drink of water.

Even a dog used to water may panic if he unexpectedly falls into a deep pool and feels no support under his feet. He'll usually react by scrambling frantically at the sides of the pool and, of course, exhausting himself.

If the sudden tumble alone doesn't frighten the pup, there usually isn't sufficient purchase on the steep sides of an average swimming pool to pull himself out and dogs have been known to drown in such cases.

DOTS AND DASH . . .
HOUNDS: Called to "save a life," a Morden, England, police officer applied mouth-to-mouth resuscitation to save a beloved Boxer overcome by smoke. . . . It is most interesting to note and a definite fact that bakers in ancient Rome made dog biscuits, as well as bread, for their customers. How about that? . . .

Scaly skin and shedding hair may mean your dog has eczema and this can be a most torturous ordeal for him. Many so-called items on the bow wow market claim to relieve itching, but the challenge is: how long can the poor dog continue to scratch. At long last poor suffering Bowser has found a potent ally in a new medicine called ENDITCH (in liquid or tasty tablet) and available at all pet shops. It is guaranteed to relieve an eczema itch within a matter of hours. Amazing but true! And the sooner this itch is stopped, the better. ENDITCH is good for cats, too.

RECOMMENDED for your doggie library: Carl Marty's fantastic "Ginger and Her Woodland Orphans." This book, priced at only $2, is a must for animal lovers, young and old alike. Ginger, a lovable blond Cocker Spaniel, befriends many of the newborn wild animals of the woods. It's a never-to-be-forgotten compilation of animal stories revolving around Carl Marty, often referred to as a modern day St. Francis. My readers can personally write to this blessed man—Carl Marty at Northernaire, Three Lakes, Wis.

Kindness to your dog planned for tomorrow is no good today. . . . Most heart-breaking news item to cross my desk in a long while is the East Berlin Communists' intention to publicly burn a live dog, perhaps a dog a day, in an effort to stop our participation in the Vietnam war. It's unbelievable that even a commie could stoop so low. This reporter joins Baxter Ward in requesting an avalanche of mail in protest be directed to SAV ETHE DOG, Hollywood, Calif. 90027.

BREED OF THE WEEK: Shih Tzu: The Shi Tzu is an alert little dog, first bred in the royal palaces of China and during the past few years has been gaining hundreds of admirers throughout the United States.

A number of American dog fanciers first became interested in this comparatively new breed to the U. S. during the late 1950s and are working around the clock to have the Shih Tzu officially admitted to registry by the American Kennel Club.

They are built slightly longer than high and may be any color or combination of colors.

Sir Loin Shop Sets Sale Event

The Sir Loin Meat Shoppe in Rolling Hills Plaza, Crenshaw Boulevard and Pacific Coast Highway, will participate in the plaza's two-day sidewalk sale "with a host of specials."

Owner Sam Morris said he and his fellow merchants are looking forward to the two-day event, scheduled for Friday and Saturday.

Morris said the sale will be an extension of his own policy of "seven-day-a-week advertised specials."

The Sir Loin Meat Shoppe is the only meat specialty store in the plaza and has been located in the same place for the past four and a half years.

"As much as we'd like to expand to perhaps other areas, we are convinced that the type of personnel we employ to serve our patrons is just too difficult to obtain," Morris said.

"Consequently, we have chosen to concentrate in this one location so we can assure the best personal service and the best quality of meat to be found in the entire area."

Rummage Sale Set By Scouts

Clothing, toys, books, and odds and ends of every description will be offered for sale Saturday and Sunday when Girl Scout Cadet Troop 214 of the Riviera School holds a rummage sale.

The event will take place 421 S. Camino Real, Redondo at the American Legion Hall, Beach Hours will be 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. Saturday and noon to 5 p.m. Sunday.

Co-chairmen for the sale are Beverly Maggio and Tracy Moss. Donations of rummage for the sale will be welcomed.

Campers Will Head For Hills

The mountains are waiting for vigorous young campers age 12 to 15 years. The Torrance Recreation Department is sponsoring its second "hike-in" Monday through Friday, Aug. 26 through 30.

Those planning to join the hike will gather at 10 a.m. Monday at El Nido Park for a day-long intensive training session. The following day campers will board a bus at El Nido Park at 6:30 a.m. and return Friday at 5 p.m.

A fee of $13 includes insurance, food, and transportation.

Look-Alike Teams Will Enter Fair

They're hoping the judges will think they look enough alike to be sisters.

That's what two sets of Torrance mothers and daughters are thinking as they prepare for the Los Angeles County Fair's first annual Mother-Daughter Look-Alike Contest.

The local competitors are Bonnie Sue Engel and daughter Teresa Rae, 22906 Alexandria; and Faith O'Leary and daughter Judy Mobbett, 21305 S. Payne.

The contest is held in connection with Ladies' Day activities Tuesday, Sept. 17. Judging will begin at 5 p.m. at the amphitheater. There is no age limit.
