RAPID TRANSIT MAIDS . . . Los Angeles County residents, who will be voting November 5, on a program for Rapid Transit and improved bus service, will find a new "addition" aboard RTD buses in the form of Rapid Transit Maids. The Maids—or information aides—will be traveling RTD lines to inform passengers about the District's Master Plan Concept for Public Transportation, including 89 miles of high-speed rail service, plus 300 miles of local and express feeder bus lines. RTD Operator Theodore Ford, Jr., welcomes Rapid Transit Maids (from left) Marian Smith and Lorna Goff.

Around the World with Stan Delaplane

It's been a wet summer in England. The river Thames rose within one inch of the record high. But now they've shut off the faucet. Blue sky days. We rented a cabin cruiser and went up the river, stopping at riverside pubs for lunch and cold Harp's lager.

The cost is less than you'd think — you can live cheaper on the Thames than in London. A cruiser with six berths is $125 a week. (I think packing six in would be like a can of sardines. It can be done. But make it four and live in comfort.)

The boat has cook stove, a sink, tables, dishes, pots and pans. You can shop the river villages during the day. Tie up anywhere you like along grassy banks at night. Many fine village pubs if you want to have dinner ashore.

And on those less-than-$10 packages, it doesn't apply to perfume. Perfume pays duty of 17 per cent. The receiver may be charged for it. (Another mystery: Perfume is sent to us from time to time from Paris. About half the time Customs sends a bill for duty. Half the time they don't. I have no idea why and don't intend to ask.)

"We would like to take a small present — (maybe a record?) to a friend in England. Will we have to pay duty?"

Not likely as long as you carry it in. English Customs is lenient as long as you don't try to bring in something like a lot of expensive items. They ask you, "Do you have anything you intend to leave in England? You tell them it is. For me, they've passed a couple of records, a half pound of caviar. Things like that.

In all countries it's up to the Customs officer. He can make it easy. Or he can go by the rule and make it hard. Best rule is answer what he asks and then keep your mouth shut. Chatty people annoy them or make them suspicious. Talk up and they'll shake down every bag and question everything.

"We have heard that you can mail home gifts worth less than $120 and there is no duty to be paid. Can you mail it to yourself?"

The rule says no. It must be an unsolicited gift, value less than $10. (I suspect people DO mail them to themselves or friends who hold things for them.)

A month ago I bought two sheepskins, $9 each, in England. I addressed them to two of my children. Each packaged the same. Each marked, "Tourist gift, value less than $10." Both arrived the same day. Customs let one in duty-free. Charged something like $1.50 on the other.

I guess I could have argued this. But someone
